

Reflection

- Think about the meetings you've attended over the past two weeks where a sensitive, or critical decision/discussion occurred. Where did you see the "heat" rise? Can you recall any specific topics, people, or events that elevated (or cooled) the temperature? Notice what you notice.
- Where/how is pause finding a place in your leadership practice?

Action:

- Connect with your Consultation Partner for a 30 minute check-in. Catch up with each other and touch on something that you've carried from Nashville into your work. Pairs:
 - Laura B | Laura T
 - Cynthia | Matt
 - Robin | Zack
 - Asher | Mike
- Read three excerpts from our texts:
 - Printed Pearce excerpt
 - Pgs. 50-71 of Parks (beginning with 'The Dance Floor and the Balcony')
 - Chapter 5 "Orchestrating the Conflict" from Heifetz/Linsky

Bring:

- Your Credibility Narrative (for reference only)
- Your hard copy of Leadership on the Line by Heifetz/Linsky
